

BRITISH SOCIETY OF BAKING

Promoting Exchange of Knowledge and Experience Between
Members of the Baking and Related Industries

March 2009

Dear Fellow Member,

Please find enclosed the Printed Proceedings for the 2008 BSB Autumn Conference. This has been produced by a new printing company at very acceptable costs and I hope that you will agree that is of excellent quality. Jim Brown is currently doing the editing, layout and proof reading for the printed proceedings and would appreciate feed back from members on the quality or otherwise of the latest publication. Please send comments to jimbrown256@btinternet.com

Also enclosed, I am also delighted to say, are the Conference Programme and Booking Form for our June 2009 Conference at the Ardencote Manor Hotel. We have had one enforced change to the line up of speakers we gave in the Conference flyer we sent to members in February. Our speaker from one of the major Supermarket Group has reluctantly had to pull out due to family commitments at the time of the conference which were not present when he agreed to do the presentation. We are very hopeful however that he will now do a presentation at our next conference.

As you will see from the enclosed Conference programme, we have a varied and interesting range of subjects and speakers, with presentations of interest and value to BSB members and their guests. We look forward to receiving your booking for the conference only on the Tuesday, or for one of the package deals detailed on the booking form. The hotel package includes the full use the hotel facilities, including a 9 hole golf course.

'With regard to the costs of attending the June conference, as you will see from the booking form, we have been able to reduce costs considerably, the full package being £65 cheaper than the 2008 autumn conference at Coombe Abbey and the day conference rate £20 cheaper.'

I look forward to seeing as many of you as possible at the Ardencote Manor Hotel for the June 2009 conference.

Yours sincerely

Andrew Pollard
Chairman